'The Majubers' are Coming By Bus, Train, Wagon, Car

Television, Radio To Be Given Away; Get Your Free Cards From Merchants

10,000 Expected To Be In And Out Of Local Stores

by R. ROBERT EVANS

Yes, the Majubers are coming to Sierra Madre; there is no guessing about this, and it is estimated that they will be at least 10,000 strong, coming from all parts of California. But the fact that they are coming is not the point, the point is, what is being prepared for them and you when they arrive Saturday, November 29 in full array of Purple and Orange.

Well, the Civic Club under Jane Buchanan is going "Gung Ho," flying about like a bunch of hummingbirds. Among many other things they will have Mexican food and sombreros for sale.

The Teen Club is picking up all the flour and syrup in the areas as they will have a Pancake Breakfast at the Community Center from 7 a.m. to 11 a.m.

The Sierra Madre Woman's Club is planning to do its "Thing" at the club house.

The Merchants of Sierra Madre are "Jubilant" about the Majubers. They are planning a great big welcome and have banded together with advertising specialists to give the honored guests the advantage of spending the day in Sierra Madre and making their necessary household expenditures before they leave.

Police Units Put On Order

The City Council at its regular meeting of Wednesday, November 12 received bids for the purchase of four new Police Cars for the 1970 operating year.

This year it was made available to Sierra Madre to buy cars on the County Sheriff contract and this proved to be the lower of the bids submitted.

The City Council then authorized the purchase of 4 Units from the Haefer Chrysler-Plymouth Company for a total cost of $2,392.30 per unit. When taxes are added, maintenance and less trade in at the end of the year the 4 units cost a total of $10,028.28. Leasing was estimated to cost about $12,152.

Postmaster Suggestions

"Don't take a chance on disappointing someone you love, send your gift parcels and cards early enough to insure their delivery before Christmas, not after," Postmaster Guy Rossi advised today.

"On the day after Christmas a post office building can be the most depressing place in the world," Postmaster Rossi added, "if it still contains a mountain of messages of love and cheer that didn't make it because they were mailed too late."

Such disappointments can be avoided if Christmas mailers will observe the following mailing schedule.

Gift parcels going to distant states should be mailed by December 1. Parcels going to local and nearby areas should be mailed not later than December 13.

The name and address of both the sender and addressee should be enclosed in each gift parcel to permit identity in case of damage or loss of the outside address label. The outside label only one side of each parcel.

Greeting cards going to distant states should be mailed not later than December 10. Cards going to local and nearby areas should be in the mail by December 15.

Postmaster Rossi also emphasized, turn to Page 13

Letter Out For Meeting

The following letter was sent to all residents and property owners by the City of Sierra Madre, where it was felt that those home or property owners may be affected by a heavy run-off of water due to the September fire. This meeting was called for those receiving the letter and it is hoped that all will attend and be fully instructed as to the plans that are being prepared.

Dear Residence or Property Owners:

The City Council has asked that a special meeting be held to inform residents of Sierra Madre of a possible flood hazard to their property. The recent burn in the foothills has created the potential of excessive runoff which may cause the channel to overflow if we experience an extremely heavy rain. The Flood Control District has indicated that an area of the City in and below the Canyon (and other areas) could be affected. Your property is located in a potentially affected area.

In order that you might be informed of the potential danger and of the preventive measures you might take, a special meeting has been called for 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, November 19, 1969 at the Community Recreation Center. Representatives of the Flood Control District will be present.

Alcohol To Go In New Center

Ordinance No. 844, pertaining to allowing the consumption of alcoholic beverages in the new Community Center was given a Public Hearing at the regular meeting of the City Council on Wednesday, November 12.

Several items were changed and the Ordinance was put on first reading. The second reading will be given on November 25 and the Ordinance will become law on December 25.

The same was given Ordinance 847, which is the Civic Center Overlay Zone Ordinance and it received its first reading and the second will be November 25 and will become law on December 25 at the time the emergency ordinance expires.

Joe Signorino Gets Appointment

After two months of operation, the City Council has come to the conclusion that instead of a part time man to keep the new Community Center spic and span and the swimming pool in fit condition that it will be necessary to employ a full time man, so the job of Recreation Facilities Technician was created.

Joseph Signorino was appointed to this position as of January 1, 1970, with a salary range of $538-$654.

We Always Do Things This Way

Would Be Worth A Million To See It Back On the Court

With the holiday season fast approaching, many long time residents of Sierra Madre will remember when the P.E. (Pacific Electric) Depot in Kersting Court used to be decorated up at Christmas time.

The year 1950 saw the end of four years of unusually elaborate decorations that had become somewhat of a Yuletide tradition in the Southland. Designer Bernard Wynn was responsible for the last design — 'Country Meeting House' — and a most charming and beautiful scene. As a matter of fact, the P.E. Railway Company was so impressed with the novelty and charm of the transformed station that they used pictures of it on their Christmas Cards for 1951.

The depot was no longer needed as waiting room for passengers, although—as it was announced in November of 1950 — "one round trip a day of rail cars will continue in Sierra Madre until Interstate Commerce Commission approves rail abandonment." The last daily franchise rail trip to Sierra Madre was made Thursday, December 25 and workmen started tearing out the tracks west of the city limits Tuesday. There were many citizens who were hoping to see the old Depot remain to be used for, among the many suggestions, a Civic Center and a

New Fees Set For Center

A new fee schedule for the use of the Community Center was presented to the City Council at its regular meeting of Wednesday, November 12.

The new schedule allowed all youth groups, 12th grade and below of the City of Sierra Madre to enjoy the facilities free during Mondays thru Fridays from 3 to 10 p.m., with small fees for Saturday and Sunday when City Staff is not regularly scheduled.

The new schedule, now available at City Hall, sets the fees for other groups both of the City of Sierra Madre as well as non-residents.

S.M. Police Give Assist

Investigation by the Sierra Madre Police Department and California State Correction Officers has resulted in the arrest of an escaped felon, James Henry Shuman, Jr., Shuman had escaped from the State Conservation Center at Chino on September 19, 1969, where he had been serving a term for forgery and burglary. An all points broadcast had listed Shuman as armed and dangerous.

Sierra Madre Police Investigator, William Kent, received information that Shuman was observed in Sierra Madre on Tuesday, November 4, 1969. On Friday, November 7, 1969, he was again reported to be in this area.

At this time Sergeant John Samony contacted State Correction Officers at Chino, who were called in to assist in the investigation. A number of locations were checked in the canyon area of Sierra Madre without success, however the investigation led to a Van Nuys Motel on Sepulveda Blvd. where Shuman was taken into custody on Monday, November 10 by State corrections officers led by Lt. Frank Wagner. Though armed, he offered no resistance.

Fire Call Number 93

Your Firefighters were called to their 93rd alarm of the year at the hour of 8:09 a.m. Monday, November 17.

Engine 424 answered the alarm in two minutes to 361 East Sierra Madre Blvd. and found, at the rear, a car owned by Doug Erickson had backfired and set the motor on fire. Dry chemicals were used by the Fire Marshal and the fire was out on arrival of the equipment.

Fourteen Regular Firefighters and one Reserve answered the call with Trucks 421 and 422 also responding and Engine 423 on standby at the station.

Chief Charles Brown determined the cause of the fire to be excess fuel from the primary pump and set the damages at $50 and released the men and equipment at 8:20 to return to the station and prepare for the next call.

At this same period a year ago the Department had 60 full response calls as compared to 93 so far this year.

Ella Nourse reported sick and Effie Pratt is in St. Luke Hospital due to an auto accident. The following were appointed to the Nominating Committee: Frances Gardner, Molly McKim and Lucille Pickett.

Urges Preparedness For Evacuation; Firefighters Start Their Planning

People Tend To Ridicule L.A. County Flood Control

by PAUL BAUMANN

The article by Warren Walworth, Times Staff Writer, in the Los Angeles Times of Sunday, November 9, 1969, on the subject matter (Sierra Madre Canyon, Dam and Channel) brings out salient features pertaining to flood hazards, based on statements by engineers.

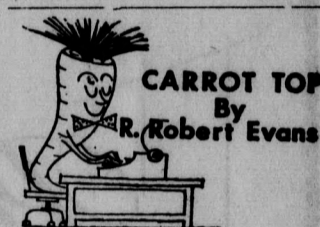

As a former Assistant Chief Engineer for twenty-five years of the Los Angeles County Flood Control District in charge of five Divisions and the Debris Reduction Study Group, I would like to strongly endorse the urge for vigilance and preparedness for evacuation of people, primarily elderly people, women and children, from the part of the canyon next to the channel and at least within a vertical distance of twenty-five feet above the top of the channel.

I also would like to briefly describe the procedure, followed by the Flood Control District, in arriving at the design capacity of regulating reservoirs, debris basins and channels, as I feel that my fellow citizens of Sierra Madre are entitled to know enough of such procedures to better understand figures on flood peaks and debris production furnished by the Flood Control District.

The Hydraulics Division, one of the five mentioned above, is responsible for hydrologic studies that form the basis for the planning of flood control works and the drawing of what is known as Comprehensive Plan. This shows the entire completed and proposed flood control system in the County except storm drains and check dams. It was initiated some forty years ago.

As you well know MWD went down to a rip roaring defeat by a vote of 3 to 1, however this cannot be considered an outstanding victory by the "no" voters, for out of a possible vote eligibility of over 65,000, only 13,000 went to the polls to vote, a mere 20 per cent of the people.

Some people wish to express their feelings that this is a direct mandate to the Board of Directors of SGV-MWD, we say not. It is not a direct mandate to anyone, excepting all, each and every one, of the taxing agencies. People just do not want to add more tax payments to their budget, and when you talk about millions you flabbergast the people to the point that they say no, no, no to almost anything.

It was my true feeling that, here we had an unforgotten public, who were absolutely not relying upon the knowledgeable to give them direction, they wanted to know themselves, and many voters did not go to the polls simply because they did not know what they were going for and did not want to make the mistake of voting the wrong way.

Personally, we have no fear that Sierra Madre will be without water; we are still percolating 1968 water and we have all of the rains of 1969 to come and at the present time we have over 6000 acre feet of credit to fall back on.

Without any more rainfall for the next two years, and Sierra Madreans would be better without it, our built up credits will take care of us. Further, I have seen a letter from the Mayor of Alhambra which has the door open for negotiations for Sierra Madre; this should be exploited by our City Council very shortly.

We have been told of surprises that might come from MWD. We hope that they do not try and surprise us too much; so many big people have tried to rattle dazzel Sierra Madreans and have failed; so keep your eyes and ears open.

One of the biggest drawbacks to the Directors of SGV-MWD is that they have been a taxing agency to Sierra Madre for the past ten years, Sierra Madreans have paid anywhere from a low of 12c per $100 valuation up to this year of 26c, and many of us know that SGV-MWD could not deliver Sierra Madre one drop of water, unless they carried it in a bucket. Further we know that the District has beaucoup dollars that are drawing interest. These dollars are some of the ones that we put in the stock pile from years past.

I am going to hazard a guess, and I will probably get kicked in the pants for it, but I'll wager that Sierra Madreans have paid in taxes to the District well over a quarter of a million dollars without receiving

DAR Meeting November 20th

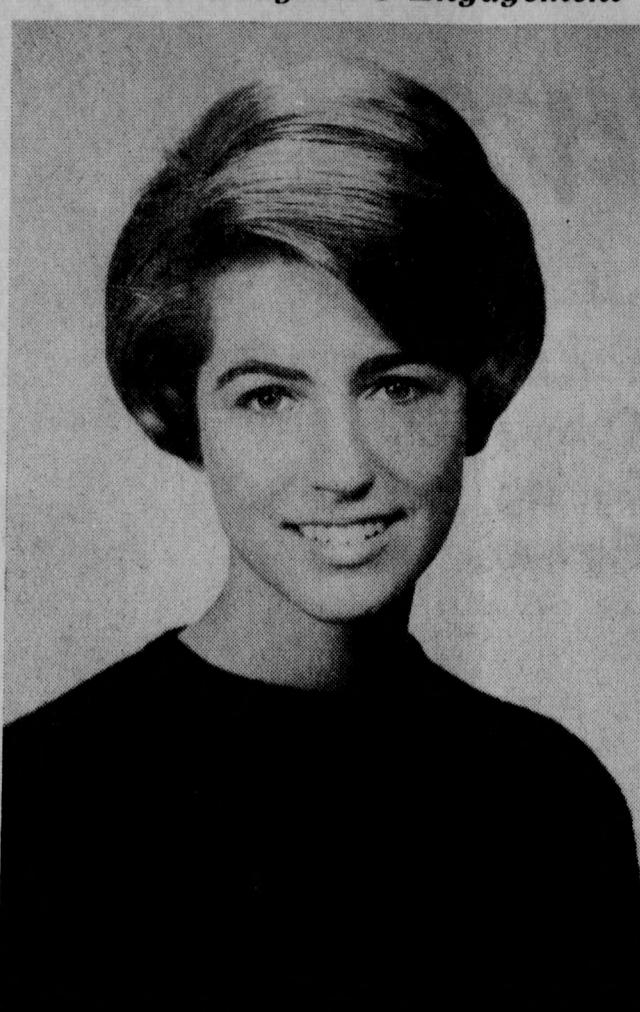

Sierra Madre Chapter National Society Daughters of the American Revolution holds its November meeting on Thursday the 20th at 7:30 p.m. in the Parkhouse, 25 S. Hermosa, Sierra Madre.

To add interest to the usual monthly business, Mrs. Jessie Code, program chairman announced that there will be a talk by Mrs. Robert Gillespie of Compton on Russia. Mrs. Gillespie comes of Russian born parents and toured that country with a church group for two months last year. She has had close contact with the common people of Russia and brought back a true description of living in a communistic regime. Being able to converse freely with all classes of citizens and be understood in turn by them, her factual account with pictures and artifacts is extremely interesting and instructive. Guests are welcome and should avail themselves of this opportunity to learn more of the people living under the so-called "iron curtain."

Hostesses for the evening are Mrs. Frank A. Mudie, Regent, and Mrs. Henry Kelley.

MISS ANNE ELIZABETH CRAWFORD
... A Nov. 29 Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wishard Crawford of Sierra Madre, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Anne Elizabeth Crawford, to Mr. Andrew Hardin Steben, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Edward Steben of Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

The couple will be wed in St. Rita's Catholic Church in Sierra Madre on November 29 and live in Riverside, where the benedict-elect, a graduate of Occidental College, is teaching.

Miss Crawford, who attended Alverno Heights Academy and the University of California at Santa Barbara, will continue her studies at the Riverside campus.

First Meeting Of the Sierra Madre Literary Society Held November 3

The first meeting of the Sierra Madre Literary Society was held Monday, November 3, at Mr. Orville Wyman's home at 7:30 in the evening. Refreshments were served and enjoyed before a deep discussion began. Discussion was aided by hors d'oeuvres and plum pudding. The president, Mr. Stanford Paine, discussed heatedly the subject of the Dickensian heritage on the writing today. The discussion quickly flowed to the attributes of Ernest Hemingway's rugged, outdoor life with an emphasis on how it relates to the writings of Barry Goldwater. Mr. Robert Olden pointed out that the two had much in common, in a rugged sort of way.

The climax came shortly thereafter when the moment they all had waited for finally arrived. The guest speaker, Ramos Vallesquez, came. He was a Cuban patriot, exiled from Cuba by Castro, has come to this country to plead through his eloquent writings for the liberation of his land from the hands of communist forces. He also spoke of the continuing threat in our own country from the very same forces and foresaw the same outcome, he sadly concluded, unless we stopped shackling our military and give them a free hand to run all the military and not let civilians have control for bureaucrats only hinder it.

Ramos pointed out that the Cubans gave up all their arms under Castro, and that if they hadn't, the communist takeover would never have occurred. He also said that we could no longer be blind to the communist inspired mini-revolutions occurring on our college campuses and that had he known that the takeover was taking place in his own land, he would have tried to close all the campuses for three years, and used the military. He concluded his talk by making an eloquent plea for the hundreds of writers still trapped in Cuba, who were forced into slave labor camps and either executed or forced to work for the government propaganda machine. "Freedom is dead in Cuba," he said, "but you can still save it here!"

After his speech he sat with the group and they had an interesting discussion in which he told them that people like this group are the true intellectuals, not the long-haired freaks that have mocked the American flag. He also mentioned "A president in ten years, a man who will serve and save America. I think you know who I am talking about."

New Brownie Troop Receives Pins

On Nov. 3, at the fourth meeting of the newly formed Brownie troop No. 545, sixteen second grade girls from Sierra Mesa School were invested and received their Brownie pins. The pins were pinned on upside down and were to remain that way until the girls did a good deed. Then they could be turned right side up.

To add to the happy occasion, which was held at the home of their leader, Mrs. Wesley E. Anderson, gingerbread boys were served with punch. Those girls receiving their pins were Pamela Anderson, Tracy Aragaki, Darlene Born, Kathy Corsello, Robin Evans, Tammy Francis, Lisa Harman, Karen Hoegee, Kristine Jensen, Vicki Redman, Louise Smith, Becky Spiro, Peggy Sweeney, Sandy Thorpe, Jennifer Ward and Leslie Williams.

Three more girls completed the requirements to join and received their pins on Nov. 10th. They were Heather Tooze, Melinda Scharf and Patty Figueredo.

Would Be Worth A

Community Art Center, and all kinds of plans were being formed. In the meantime, bus passengers were finding the depot a friendly spot to await their bus.

On January 2, PE officials presented a check for $11,035 to the city to cover the cost of ripping up the rails. At the same time, the deed of the PE Depot was officially turned over to the city. Conditions of agreements reached included PE removing all wires, poles and overhead appurtenances within the city with work to begin immediately.

All through the first half of the year, ideas, plans and suggestions flew back and forth between citizens, Chamber of Commerce, City Council and architects. Several artists and architects submitted drawings of their conception of what could be done with the Kersting Court Triangle. Most of the community favored artist A. L. Suman's proposal which would eliminate the old depot, but would provide just a smaller bus waiting area. The general consensus of opinions was that despite historical and sentimental value that the depot should go because in addition to other arguments, it was felt that the wall space was too small to suffice for use as an Art Gallery.

Many people and groups were involved in the fate of Kersting Court and the depot. Among them were the Businessmen's Association, PE Triangle Development Committee of which Harold Roberts was the head, and Mr. Byron Hopper who was tabbed the unofficial guardian of the "park" for several years.

Then in the middle of August, the Council gave the depot the 'axe.' Starting Monday morning, August 27, it took the wreckers of the Mead Wrecking Company only a short time to tear down the landmark. The Lion's Club last minute effort to save the building by having it moved to the city water grounds had been previously denied by the City Council.

All during this time, along with the suggestions that had been coming in, names for the Kersting Triangle were being received — like "Eternal Triangle." More plans, bids, rejections, ideas, and in October the Council finally oked the plans by Landscape Architect C. Jacques Hahn.

For those of you who appreciate reminiscing about the early days (the good old days!) in Sierra Madre, you will be interested in reading the well written, informative communications in the LETTERS TO THE EDITOR on Page 10 of this issue. Mrs. Nell Viera's letter is full of human interest and one that all should enjoy.

Jr. Republicans To Convention

Assemblyman William P. Campbell, Legislator from the 50th Assembly District, member of the Education Committee, and chairman of the sub-committee on Alcoholism and Drug Abuse, along with William Teague, vice president of Pepperdine College and Cam Nelson T.V. and movie personality will be among those addressing the Los Angeles County Junior Republicans at the Los Angeles City Police Academy, November 22.

Narcotics, campus violence, youth's role in today's society, as well as their patriotism, support and responsibility to their Republican form of government will be topics covered by those speaking to the members of the largest Republican youth organization in Los Angeles County, Corrie Morales, president of the East Pasadena-Sierra Madre Junior Republican Club announced recently.

The afternoon business session will be followed by a gala dinner and dance featuring the "Blue Conditions," Janet Green, TV entertainer will also entertain during the evening with her guitar and vocal arrangements.

On hand to speak about the 1970 elections and what the young people can do to help elect Republicans, will be Charles Soderstrom, chairman of the Los Angeles County Central Committee, Mrs. Tilden Mattox, president, Los Angeles Federation of Republican Women, and Emil Franzi, president of the Los Angeles County Young Republicans. Awards will be given to those clubs involved in the most activities this year and those with the greatest increase in membership.

The East Pasadena-Sierra Madre Junior Republican Club will be represented at this annual convention by the following members: Delegates: Dale Dietrich, of Sierra Madre, and Corrie Morales, Lydia Anderson, Nancy Miller, Scott Dewees, John Fena and Tom Henracy, of Pasadena. Alternates will be Marjorie Grippi of Sierra Madre and Tricia Myers, Steve Crosby, and Cathy Kiernan, of Pasadena.

Tourney

The Sierra Madre Golf Club will hold its final tournament of the season at the Los Amigos Country Club in Downey. A rather short course, but well trapped, water hazards to contend with.

At least forty-eight people have signed up for this mixed twosome event, with a buffet to follow.

Both Roes's and Roberts' markets have donated turkeys for this event so this will be a real "turkey shoot."

Paul Baumann Lays It On the Line

Sierra Madre Canyon is located chiefly in the "N" Zone, the most productive in rainfall intensities.

The paramount question of what rainfall and rainfall intensity frequency the design of permanent structures should be based on was decided over forty years ago when the Board of Supervisors approved the flood control Districts recommendation that such design be based upon a fifty year rainfall falling on a saturated, denuded watershed combined with a fifty year rainfall intensity frequency. Hence, these are the floods Flood Control District representatives have been referring to when attending public hearings, such as those in Sierra Madre.

They have often been ridiculed by people who think they know better, such as the militant faction in Sierra Madre Canyon and in fact in almost any other canyon in the County.

Rates of runoff based on the combined frequencies are called clear water Q's, Q standing for cubic feet per second (c.f.s.). While rain is clear water before it hits the ground it does not remain clear as runoff unless the surface is unobtainable, such as roofs, pavements, bodies of water or bare sound rock. On erodible surfaces clear water will soon pick up solids and will thereby become bulked. Since our mountain watersheds are not only erodible, 100 per cent bulked, namely equal volumes of water and solids, is nothing unusual. This holds true for the Sierra Madre Canyon watershed of 2.39 square miles above the dam or about 1530 acres, some 850 acres of which have been denuded by fire.

Experience has shown that 200,000 cubic yards (c.y.) of debris may be produced per square mile of burned watershed during a major storm, most of it during the maximum twenty-four hours. Hence, from the 850 acres or 133 square miles of burned watershed alone, at least 266,000 c.y. of debris could materialize and an additional 50,000 c.y. per sq. mi. from the balance of the watershed. Since the basin would retain 150,000 c.y. about 182,500 c.y. of debris would have to spill and move down the channel with the water as bulked flow. The question of whether or not there is enough water power available to accomplish this follows from the comparison of available vs. required power. This can be approximated as follows:

To move 182,500 c.y. down the 3500 foot long channel in twenty-four hours and overcome friction requires about 12,000 horse power (HP), whereas available energy to do this work during a fifty year flood and maximum twenty-four hour day would not exceed 8000 (water) HP.

Obviously then, the existing channel, good for some 600 c.f.s. of water could not handle this load, would get hopelessly clogged and the bulked flood waters would be forced out of control. This is exactly what the Flood Control District and Army Engineers have been talking about for the past three years or more in urging approval by the City Council of the reconstruction of the channel and enlargement of the basin behind the dam by Federal funds. But their pleading fell on deaf ears until we got a more enlightened city government. By that time, unfortunately, it was too late to construct the necessary improvements, so as to be ready this winter.

It therefore behooves all of us to hope and pray that there will be no major flood in this area during the impending wet season.

Tape Recordings To Servicemen

The sound of your hello; a picture of familiar faces from home . . . thousands of miles away.

What better gifts than these could you give to the serviceman in your family who will have to spend this Christmas on duty in Vietnam or at some other military installation overseas.

The Pasadena Chapter, American National Red Cross, is offering a public service to make free seven-minute tape recording for families who want to send their "Voices From Home" holiday greetings to loved ones serving in the military overseas.

In addition, Red Cross will take a polaroid snapshot of your family and send it overseas along with the tape recorded Christmas message. Playback equipment for the recordings will be made available to the serviceman by the Red Cross field director with his unit.

Persons wishing to send a taped message through Red Cross may do so by appointment at the Pasadena Red Cross chapter house, 430 Madeline Drive. Call the chapter house for an appointment at 799-0841, weekdays between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. Ask for the Service To Military Families Department.

Families making the tape recorded Voices From Home messages are asked to bring with them to the chapter house the serviceman's military serial number and his complete address.

Christmas is just around the corner, be it in Pasadena, Saigon, the world over. Pasadena Red Cross urges families of servicemen to give the season a special ring this year for their relatives in the military overseas by sending a tape recorded holiday greeting.

Reds Unionize U. S. Army

Chairman Andy Stapp of the burgeoning American Servicemen's Union says:

"In the United States itself and around the world the troops of the U.S. Imperialist Army are learning about how to fight against Fascism. The ASU is playing a leading role in this fight, this organizing drive. We have chapters on 60 large military installations in the U.S. and 40 overseas. Just as the Bolshevik Party organized through the Soviets in 1917 against the Czar and the repressions in Russia, the American Servicemen's Union is organizing Soviets within the U.S. Imperialist Army. Right now the ASU is building an army within an army, a workers militia inside the U.S. Army, and along with the Panthers and others we're going to make that revolution. Power to the People!"

How can this man do it? Two merchandising specials in one month, it sure sets up his competition as pure "Non-Merchandisers." And then you have on top of this 4 shirts beautifully laundered, in boxes or on hangers for only 99c. Is it any wonder that Vogue is running two trucks a day to the cleaning plant to keep up with the people's desires. LONG'S DATE HOUSE

If your gift list contains anyone who dislikes eating, don't go to LONG'S DATE GARDENS. No — take it back — even old Uncle Scrooge himself would be won over by the countless date delicacies and gaily-packaged California goodies there, ready to tempt the most jaded appetites.

Melt-in-your-mouth dates, the non-candy confection, rolled, stuffed, or whole, taste like California itself. Or for variety try date butter, date nougats, date syrup, and date sugar. Eye-catching ceramic beehives contain a variety of honeys. Honey-sweetened preserves in gourmet flavors of tangerine, pomelo, grapefruit, ginger-orange would catch your "taste-rating" with the boss or business acquaintance.

Nuts, choice halves shelled and ready for nibbling, for fruit cakes, for roasting, for sundaes (and the rest of the week too), may cause some agonizing indecision until you "compromise" and add a box — and then another for Auntie Mame (who's a little bit nutty herself).

Then there is fruit cake — bon-bon size to accompany ice cream, sherbet, or simply coffee. Choice dried fruits, or perhaps Sunland olives for those whose sweet tooth has been extracted.

Remember, just the postmark on a present from California conjures up a vision of date palms, fruit trees, and walnut groves. California -- Fairly Good!

The record $2.8 billion a year in new or increased taxes that Americans in 34 states will be called upon to pay as a result of action this year by their state legislatures doesn't look like the end of it.

According to a national survey by Tax Foundation, Inc., that record figure is likely to be boosted by at least another $850 million by pending legislation before the year is out.

Californians can take some consolation in the fact that this state comes out looking fairly good compared to some of the others.

Although we were one of the 15 states that increased rates on motor fuel taxes, California's increase was a temporary measure that raised the rate by 1 cent to provide emergency funds for road repair, and it was terminated as of August 31.

Consolation for taxpayers in other states is that the increase could have been higher: tax proposals up for consideration by state legislatures reached a total of $4.9 billion, but only about three-fourths of these were adopted.

That makes the 1969 estimated total of $3.7 billion in new or increased taxes a little easier to digest.

Previous highs in annual state tax increases nationwide were $2.5 billion in 1967 and $1.3 billion in 1965. This year's increase to date represents seven per cent of total state revenues, estimated to reach $42 billion in fiscal 1969.

The reason for it all is, of course, two successive years of extremely rapid increases in economic growth, inflation and statutory action, leading to an added one-third in state collections from the $32 billion assessed in fiscal 1967.

These higher taxes affect two-thirds of the nation's population through 75 major new tax measures. Five states have introduced new major taxes, including personal and corporate levies introduced in Illinois, Maine and Washington, a general sales tax in Vermont (bringing the number of states having this tax to 45), with North Carolina becoming the 50th state to impose a cigarette tax.

New revenues in the states this year break down as follows: general sales, $889 million; personal income, $740 million; corporate income, $425 million; motor fuels, $265 million; cigarettes and tobacco, $295 million; alcoholic beverages, $40 million; miscellaneous, $146 million.

If you are looking for a place to hide, New Hampshire remains the only state with neither a sales or income tax, but then that state has recently hiked its meals and rooms tax, and added to the cost of travel with adoption of a $1 emplaning fee per boarding passenger.

The biggest tax increase of all came in Illinois, which upped its collections in 1969 by $826 million, or 48 per cent more than was collected in 1968. This increase is attributable in part to the introduction of income taxes in that state. Also raised were existing rates on gasoline, cigarettes and alcoholic beverages.

All in all only 13 of the 47 states holding regular legislative sessions this year have failed to raise taxes — and two of these, Pennsylvania and Texas are expected to approve substantial increases before adjournment.

No Hell-Raising

Could it be that a first step has been taken in the direction of bringing black militancy out of the area of violence and hatred and onto more productive grounds?

From the deep south comes a reasoned and optimistic admonition, by a man who has been through the civil rights struggle and won. He is Charles Evers, Mississippi's foremost rights leader and its first black mayor of a biracial town since the Reconstruction period. As chief executive of Fayette, Evers has been a constructive force, he has managed improvements of the community's streets, among other things, and is making progress toward bringing in small industry to help provide jobs.

Evers' message is direct, and blunt: "The time for picketing and boycotting and raising hell has about passed," he says. "We got to do our fighting on the inside with the ballot and the dollar. We got to keep our head and not let some groups get us so frustrated we lose sight of our goals. We can't lose our cool and riot and destroy what we've gained."

That's pretty sound advice for a lot of people.

Law and Order

The phrase "law and order" has been turned into a troika of dirty words by what Vice President Spiro Agnew referred to as the "effete corps of intellectual snobs." It is equated with racism and all sorts of naughty things.

But law and order are things about which the average un-effete American is deeply, urgently concerned. He is afraid. Not of "police brutality," but of mugging at the bus stop, or in front of his home, or on the bus.

It is rather disturbing, therefore, to look at the record of this Congress. Although some of the loyal opposition chose to blame President Nixon for not providing a program, the facts are these:

More than 20 bills, including five major pieces of legislation, have been supported or proposed to Congress by the Administration. Not one has been passed. Not a dollar of requested appropriations for the war on crime — including requests for the now four-month-old fiscal year of 1970 — has been approved.

Endangered citizens would prefer a little less cynicism, and a little more constructive action.

A Bright Spot

It has become almost a monthly routine for Americans to read that the cost of living has once again gone up. Latest figures indicate the official index of consumer prices rose four tenths of 1 per cent — a rate of increase that is equal to nearly 5 per cent a year.

The spiraling cost of medical care rising 14 per cent over the past two years, is one example. Beef, poultry, pork, bread, eggs, milk cigarettes, haircuts, college tuition are others.

Yet there is a bright spot in the cost of living gloom. Gas and electricity have kept far below the 10 per cent boost in other living costs during the past two years. Electricity, per 200 kwh, has risen only 3 per cent, while cooking gas, per 25 trems, has gone up a sparse 2 per cent.

Like the weather, everybody talks about inflation. At least the utilities have been doing something about it.

SENSING THE NEWS

AROUND THE U. S. CAPITOL

One of the reasons that Richard M. Nixon won the Presidency is that the American people wanted a more realistic foreign policy. During the Kennedy and Johnson years, U.S. policies overseas were based on emotion, not on careful calculation of American national interests and protection of orderly, capitalist societies.

In some respects, the Nixon administration has made progress toward meeting the demands of the people for a realistic foreign policy. Some of the ambassadors selected are thoroughgoing realists who are well equipped to implement the President's policies. The Nixon administration generally has downplayed emotional considerations. Nevertheless, there are some areas where no significant progress has been made and where liberal pressures on the administration apparently still have a powerful impact.

A case in point is the Nixon administration's handling of the Rhodesian situation. Rhodesia is not the biggest country in the world, but the manner in which relations with Rhodesia is handled is indicative of basic strengths and weaknesses in the administration's conduct of foreign affairs.

Many supporters of Mr. Nixon hoped and expected that on entering the White House he would abandon outright the vindictive policy the Johnson administration adopted with respect to Rhodesia. Specifically, they assumed that he would revoke the Executive Orders under which President Johnson prohibited U. S. trade with Rhodesia, a country that has offered to send a contingent of troops to fight the communists in Vietnam.

Many of Mr. Nixon's supporters have been cruelly disappointed on this score. The LBJ Executive Orders have not been revoked. It's true that the administration has retained in Salisbury, capital of Rhodesia, the U. S. consul, over the objection of militant liberals who have made an emotional cause of humiliating and destroying Rhodesia.

Yet there is no assurance whatever that the U.S. Consul will be permanently retained in Rhodesia, let alone that the United States will recognize Rhodesia as an independent, sovereign nation. On the contrary, there was dismaying evidence in recent weeks that the Nixon administration is bowing to the fanatical liberals who want to cripple Rhodesia because it is a symbol of stable, civilized government on the African continent.

Assistant Secretary of State David D. Newsom, testifying before a House Foreign Affairs subcommittee, said the United States "is giving full support" to U. N. sanctions against Rhodesia. He added that "we have continued to recognize British sovereignty in Rhodesia and regard the Smith regime as illegal."

This is an extremely unfortunate and disturbing statement. There's no basis in realism for joining in the crusade of the Afro-Asian U. N. bloc against Rhodesia. France, Germany, Japan and other solid progressive states are busily trading with Rhodesia. Giant Japanese ore carriers regularly transport Rhodesian chrome, in defiance of U. N. edicts and the British naval blockade in the Mozambique Channel of Africa's east coast. Rhodesia has been self-governing and self-supporting since 1923. It has been independent since 1965, and there is no sign that the U. N. trade ban will crack Rhodesian spirits — no more than the British assault on the 13 American colonies crushed the colonists' determination to be independent of the British Crown.

Assistant Secretary Newsom's remarks to the congressional subcommittee were absurd to anyone who knows conditions in Africa. For example, he said that the administration's policy was designed to head off "increased racial tensions and possibly widespread violence."

For years, liberals have been predicting an explosion in Southern Africa, but it hasn't taken place. The explosions have come in the unstable, disorderly regimes elsewhere in Africa. Within recent days the president of Somalia, a leftist state on the Horn of Africa, was assassinated. Libya, in North Africa, recently joined the socialist Arab bloc and is forcing the U. S. to remove its air base facilities. Nigeria, in West Africa, is the scene of an incredibly bloody tribal war, with the Biafrans threatened with extinction.

Rhodesia, on the other hand, is a land of tranquility and progress. Both white and black Rhodesians enjoy the blessings of peace and intelligent, free enterprise government.

The United States stands to gain from a world community of stable nations. Rhodesia is one of them. The Nixon administration, aware of the threats to civilized government and stability overseas and at home, should recognize Rhodesia. It should permit renewal of a normal trade with the Rhodesians. For one thing, such a renewal would free the U. S. dependence on Russian chrome ore. The handling of the Rhodesian situation is, therefore, an important test of the Nixon administration's commitment to realism.

Letters And Remarks To The Editor Show Great Concern

Dear Editor:

The Literary Society has at last been founded. Now Sierra Madrans can enjoy the great works of authors and journalists. We, of course, are speaking of the Real Writers. And in this we leave out most of the new literature, which is obscenity . . . at its best.

We are going to ask you to do us a big favor. We have now founded the Sierra Madre Literary Society. What we truly need is more members. Badly. We have a small group of 12 right now, and have conducted our first meeting, the results of which we have included in this letter, hoping that you will print it. If anybody out there in Sierra Madre really enjoys the real books, we hope they would get in touch with us at 355-6675 and 355-6853.

As for membership, we are asking those who are interested to call us at the above numbers. Next meeting is at 7:30 on November 30. We will discuss a book titled "Slightly to the Right," by Senator Richardson, and Solz Henitsyn — A Russian writer expelled from Red Russia because he was a little "too liberal."

Mrs. Margaret Wheatley
Mr. Stanford Paine

Dear Editor:

The war in Vietnam has now supposedly created two "camps" in America — those supporting the moratorium and those supporting the President's position.

The only problem is telling the difference between the two "camps." Or did the President really offer an alternative to the supporters of the moratorium? He did talk about those who want the United States to lose in Vietnam, but never did he mention the alternative to losing — victory.

He didn't mention any real solutions to the war, only more talk. He did mention, however, that Russia is supplying the majority of the war materials to the Viet Cong. It would seem to me that an alternative to past programs would be for our President to issue an Executive Order barring all United States trade with Communist-controlled countries, or any country supplying the Viet Cong. A jungle country cannot fight a war without supplies.

The President talked about the silent majority. The silent majority has not been silent. Over one and a half million have signed a petition, asking the President to stop all aid to the Communists. Yet the President refuses to respond to the majority of Americans.

That majority wants more than a moratorium, more than a negotiated peace. They want victory over the Viet Cong — a victory which would be assured were the United States to stop supplying the enemy.

If you would like to participate in the vocal majority's campaign to win the war and bring our boys home, please address this writer.

Richard E. Woodin

Dear Editor:

The Council Siminar at First Avenue Junior High School in Arcadia on Family Life Education was a great disappointment in our opinion. Instead of adding strength to the cause of implementing Family Life in our schools, Dr. James Petersen further convinced us that it is IMPERATIVE that the whole program be rejected.

During the first seminar meeting Dr. Petersen greatly minimized the role of SIECUS in his program and never mentioned his founding membership in that organization. When it was revealed that he had been a member of the Board of Directors of SIECUS he then and ONLY THEN came forward and told of his affiliation with that group.

Recently another well known individual with supposedly all the "right" credentials as Dr. Petersen, Margaret Mead, testified before a governmental body in Washington. She stated that marijuana was perfectly harmless and advocated its use by individuals of sixteen years of age and older. Today, we too often accept the ideas of the "highly educated" simply because they have a string of degrees following their names. In our opinion the "in depth" education of many of these so called intellectuals has been a detriment rather than an asset.

The sanctity of the family is the very backbone of this Country. Today the very existence of the family is being threatened by organizations and individuals who are USING sex education and sensitivity training as a cure-all for all our problems and a SUBSTITUTE for parental and individual responsibility. The "thing" today seems to be "let George do it," but that's a very dangerous practice and can eventually lead to a controlled society. PARENTS BEWARE!

Mr. & Mrs. R. D'Evelyn

Dear Editor:

Reading over the interesting account of the old Mt. Wilson tool road in last week's Sierra Madre News, gave me a good case of nostalgia — the picture of old toll house brought back memories of good old days when people took time to enjoy this wonderful world and its natural beauty and we took advantage of pleasures that were free and didn't fight smog, and freeways and come home broke. Just honest to goodness living. I remember Mr. and Mrs. Carroll very well, also faint recollection of son.

I do not remember if the Carrolls were before or after Taust Havermadin family took over. I guess Carrolls later. Back in days I was a student of Occidental College which was located in Highland Park instead of Eagle Rock as now around 1910 thru 1920 etc. I would spend many week ends with Ranger's family and pack train and hikers were many. Later the Harmale's took over Orchard Camp. I was there Fri. and Sat. and would help register the couples — in those days groups were always accompanied by one of those individuals (not heard of today) a chaperone — go on early in morning. I mean around daybreak. Many were exhausted and slept right on trail then continue on up to top Mt. Wilson.

Orchard Camp really had wonderful apples back of the cabin. Later on my parents and I went every summer to Sturdevants Camp to my mind the most beautiful around here. I was the first girl to go down the canyon with the couple of rangers and blaze the trail to Sturdevant falls. They would make one stop every so often, get down and throw cold water on face and arms so I could not get poison oak. (which I never had.) knock knock. Also had the fun of being the first girl to go up the ladder on the Mt. Wilson Observatory. I remember when I was about 16 years of age the first winter I was up there. I stayed about 3 weeks. They would waken be about daybreak and go out to see if anything was caught in the bear trap. Luckily there never was while I was there. I've made on actual count 102 trips up on foot and do not know how many on horseback.

If we became real hungry for meat we would go on up to Mt. Wilson from Sturdevant Camp which was about 3 miles, go to hotel for real dinner of course it was venison and believe me it was good.

Up at end of Sturdevants camping place there was a rather flat place like an amphitheatre — hills surrounding up — probably more like a bowl. We would play hand ball etc. because ball could always roll back down when we more often than not missed. We mentioned to the rangers, "why can't we have a tennis court and be able to keep up our game while away at camp as several of us belonged to Anandale Country Club tennis club. Next morning bright and early we were awakened by two terrible loud cow bells. We went out and there were four rangers handing each of us a shovel and said "go to it" but come down have cup coffee first.

That we did — it took us about a week — sent down to Hoegus' Sporting Goods for equipment. Needless to say we did surprise the folks at home because they were sure off on camping trip — tennis would be farthest from our mind. Well enough on paper of good old days and hope some of these memories will start a chain of memories of those who wonderful Mts. we have for a background to our little town which really put Sierra Madre on the map — for in those days 3 and 4 cars came out and stopped and after stopping at Mrs. Sangers Coffee House would start up Mt. Trail to stop and pack the burros. Sat. or Sun. evening the Motorman would look at his watch and time to leave would go out in the street and motion to hurry to go back to town — there would always be a few stragglers that had blisters — could hardly make out he would wait.

Can't you imagine a bus waiting for you today.

Good old days.

What can be more exciting than becoming a teenager? This great event for Laura Decker was celebrated on November 4, but since this was a school night, she waited until Saturday night to really celebrate with her closest friends at a slumber party. Guests, Dana Jensen, Susan Bishop, Lynne Shivers, Mary Benedict, Cheryl Anderson were served a delicious dinner, complete with a beautiful chocolate cake, by Mom. The evening (and night) was spent playing games, listening to records and just talking. Came the dawn and Mom and Dad were in the kitchen preparing breakfast for a bunch of sleepy, but very happy, young ladies. All declared it was a great way to celebrate a 13th birthday. Congratulations Laura, we're sure that you will always remember this very special birthday.

The Potter and His Clay
The Junior Friends of the Library of Sierra Madre have a very interesting program scheduled November 15 at the new Recreation Center, 10 to 10:45 a.m. Mr.

Rod Callahan, a local artist, will have his potter's wheel and will demonstrate pottery making. This should be of interest for all ages as pottery making is one of the oldest and one of the most fascinating of industrial romances.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis (Lela) George have returned from a recent trip to Casa Grande, Arizona, where Louie conducted a sales meeting at the Frisco Grande Hotel. After the business part was over they took the long way home by way of Prescott, Sedona, Oak Creek Canyon, and the old Copper mining town of Jerome. They tell us that the trees were really beautiful at this time of year. Stops were made along the way to visit several Indian ruins and also a visit with the Eber Thomas in Verde. That is they visited with Beulah, Eber was here in Sierra Madre on business. Lela says she sure enjoyed the long way home and is ready to do that again anytime. Can't say that I blame her. Sure is beautiful country.

Know . . . THE FOOD

You Eat

by JEANNETTE

EDITOR'S NOTE: When her children were young and full of questions, Jeannette Hessler found herself looking up the why of the food her children ate and asked questions about. She would write them down and after explaining them to the satisfaction of her children, filed them away for future questions. Now that her children are grown, she extracted them from the Hessler Archives and is sharing them with you in a weekly column.

I expect all you homemakers are busy making out your menu and shopping lists for your truly American Thanksgiving dinner. This is the one holiday on which we serve traditional foods that were served the first Thanksgiving and of those served by the colonists that came to America later.

Of course turkey heads the list. The Indians, and Pilgrims had wild turkey. The name "turkey" is believed to be a corruption of "turkee", an Indian name for the bird. There seems to be some confusion as to the origin of this noble bird. Some claim that it was used by the Romans, others claim that the French name, "coq d'Inde" betrays its origin for at first America was known as the Western Indies. But where or exactly when the turkey was first used, I'm sure it was not as plump, juicy, and tender as the ones we have today. The stuffing for your turkey can be made of plain bread with a pinch of sage for flavoring, oysters, wild rice or one with the addition of fruits and nuts. Stuffings or dressings were known in the early days as Force-meats, which derives its name from the French "farcir" meaning, "to stuff."

I'm sure cranberries are on your list. Cranberries were first known as "crane berries" since cranes living in the New England Bogs ate the berries. In early days they were also known as "bounce berries" since they were, and still are, tested for ripeness by their ability to bounce.

Your choice of vegetables can be many and varied. In some areas of our country it is traditional to serve squash, boiled onions in cream sauce, rutabaga (yellow turnips) or parsnips. Along with these vegetables, mashed potatoes and candied yams or sweet potatoes are usually included.

The Indians grew a wide variety of squash before the white men came. The best-known and most popular American squash is the Hubbard. This winter squash was named for a Mrs. Elizabeth Hubbard who informed everyone of its good qualities in 1842 or 1843. There are several varieties such as the Green, Blue, or Golden Hubbard. Some, like the Blue Hubbard grow so large that they are sold in pieces or sections. Squash and its first cousin the pumpkin, are vegetables of American origin. This squash may be boiled and mashed or it may be baked with butter and honey or brown sugar.

Turnips were used in Roman times, and in the days of the Gold Rush in California, a single turnip sold for $1.00. The rutabaga is delicious when boiled and mashed with butter — that is if you like turnips.

Parsnips were grown by the Indians and are native to America and Europe. They were grown and used by the Greeks and Romans. They belong to the same family as carrots and celery.

Pumpkin Pie is a must for Thanksgiving. But, perhaps you will also serve Mince pie. This pie of English origin was usually baked at Christmas time and was known as "shredded pie" as the meat was in shreds. It was supposed to symbolize the gifts of the Wisemen because of the spices used.

From an old diary written in 1779 the Thanksgiving menu included, Roast Pork, Venison, Turkey, Goose and Pigeon Pasties. All sorts of vegetables were served including a new one which was called "Sellery" and was eaten raw. A Mince pie was made with dried cherries and venison since there were no raisins or beef. There was also a Plum pudding made with dried plums, cherries and suet flavored with a jar of West India preserved ginger since there were no spices left. This pudding was placed in a cloth bag and boiled.

From this same diary, a description was given of have some top promotions planned for December and should start picking up at the box office. . . . Indian Red Lopez is no match for Jose Napoles. . . . L. J. Durosseau should be a hot item in the jockey column when Santa Anita opens. He looks like a cinch for the national riding title and has averaged 276 winners, a fantastic clip for even the likes of Willie The Shoe and Moneybags Longden.

SAY IT AIN'T SO. . . . Please don't tell me the Helmsman won't be tooting up the street anymore. Why when I was a kid in Pasadena the Helms driver used to stop and play over-the-line with the kids in the neighborhood.

AND NOW FOR THE PEERLESS PIGSKIN PREDICTIONS. . . . HANKUS likes UCLA's Bruins to dump USC from the ranks of the unbeaten and zain the Rose Bowl nod. The Bruins have been more impressive all season and have a superior passing game. Make it something like 24-14.

STANFORD to dump California by a 3-21 margin. . . . WASHINGTON to gain their first win of the season over Washington St. . . . OREGON STATE to sneak past Oregon. . . . TAMPA over hapless Cal. St. L.A. . . . SAN DIEGO ST. to edge a very tough North Texas St. team like 41-30.

PASADENA CITY COLLEGE surprised Hankus with its powerful defense and should have little trouble with an offensive minded Santa Monica team. . . . The RAMS will tune up for their tilts with Minnesota and Baltimore by edging Dallas 17-14. . . . SAN DIEGO's CHARGERS should be able to get past Denver.

AROUND THE NATION. . . . NOTRE DAME over Air Force, but watch out. . . . SMU to slip Baylor a mickey. . . . UTAH by three over rugged BYU. . . . CAL STATE L.B. over San Francisco St. . . . DARTMOUTH to remain perfect with win over Princeton. . . . FLORIDA over Miami Fla. . . . YALE to take Harvard by two TDs. . . . HOUSTON over troubled Wyoming. . . . IOWA to belt terrible Illinois. . . . OKLAHOMA ST. to edge Iowa St. . . . MISSOURI to win Big-8 by beating Kansas but watch out for an upset here. . . . TENNESSEE to bounce back with win over Kentucky.

OHIO STATE much too good for even a fired up Michigan eleven. . . . NORTHWESTERN to knock off Michigan State. . . . MINNESOTA over Wisconsin. . . . PENN STATE to blast Pitt. . . . T.C.U. over Rice. . . . THIS WEEK'S UPSETS GO LIKE THIS. . . . WEST VIRGINIA to shake-up Syracuse. . . . INDIANA to knock off Purdue (how do you like that one?). . . . NEBRASKA to knock off Oklahoma. . . . COLORADO to upset Kansas State.

LAST WEEK Hankus hit on 17 of 20 with two of his losses coming in the "limb-crawler" category. His season total climbed to 132-41-4 reading, good for .763.

anything, and I doubt very seriously that should a bond issue come up, that it will have any more chance than the proverbial snowball in hell. . . . But let us wait and see. . . . Sierra Madreams are used to receiving surprises.

— CT — We are right on the verge of "Treasure of Sierra Madre Day" scheduled for November 29, and this will be the next surprise for Sierra Madreams. . . . From where I sit this will be a rip roaring affair, and one that some of us will not forget for quite some time.

— CT — We certainly go along with the pancake breakfast and fashion show of the Teen Club, but we fail to see where this sort of day will bring much business to Sierra Madre. Listening to some of the broadcasts, people will come to Sierra Madre, expecting to be entertained, and from what I hear, if it be true, they will be entertained; so will the people of Sierra Madre.

— CT — Food and drink establishments should come out of it in good shape, but I cannot see many people buying dresses and shirts and pants, unless they get their turn off of 'em, and this well could be.

— CT — We have to go along with the whole affair because it is sponsored by your Chamber of Commerce and sanctioned by your City Council. It will be a great day for your Police Department, and your Firefighters will have quite a stake in the day, for Sierra Madre Blvd. will be roped off from Memorial Park to Baldwin so the fire equipment will have to be removed from the station. Should we happen to draw a rainy or drizzly day this will mean trouble, but here again, both your Police and Fire have gone up against serious trouble before, and we have capable Chiefs that always seem to pull all of us through and we go on as if nothing happened.

— CT — It's going to be mighty interesting though, and I for one would not miss a single minute of it; it could be a chapter in the book that all publisher are going to write when they retire.

— CT — I will close up this column for the week with a paragraph that I think is very important at this time, one that needs your attention and study. . . .

— CT — Cicero, the great Roman orator and philosopher, set forth what he considered the most drastic "Six Mistakes of Man." Though over 2,000 years old, they most pertinently point out characteristics to be avoided particularly among those engaged in working with other people and earning a living:

1. The decision that individual advancement is gained by crushing others.
2. The tendency to worry about things that cannot be changed or corrected.
3. Insisting that a thing is impossible because we cannot accomplish it.
4. Refusing to set aside trivial preferences.
5. Neglecting development and refinement of the mind, and not acquiring the habit of reading and study.
6. Attempting to compel others to believe and live as we do.

— CT — Do read and understand them, I hope, I hope, I hope.

Rose Show For November 22-23

Southern California rose growers will create a "rainbow of colors" with more than 150 varieties of roses at the Second Annual Arcadia County Park Fall Rose and Arrangement Show to be held Saturday and Sunday, November 22 and 23, at Arcadia County Park, according to Supervisor Frank G. Bonelli.

First Prize, the multi-pink hybrid tea rose award winner of the 1970 All-American Rose Selections, will be among 35 varieties to be cut from the Arcadia County Park Rose Garden for exhibit at the free show by the Los Angeles County Department of Parks and Recreation.

To Be Typical Pilgrim Service Thanksgiving Eve

In keeping with their historical beginnings, members and friends of Sierra Madre Congregational Church will celebrate a typical Pilgrim service on Thanksgiving Eve. As was done by their ancestors, the men and boys will sit on one side of the Sanctuary, and the women and girls on the other.

As they attend the 8 p.m. worship service, many will don Pilgrim costumes, or even dress as friendly Indians, though costumes are not required for attendance. Reverend Richard J. Anderson, Pastor of Sierra Madre Congregational Church, will conduct the Thanksgiving Eve service. Everyone is asked to bring canned goods wrapped in fall colors, which will be distributed to needy families by the Board of Stewards.

Following the service, all are invited to partake of refreshments in Pritchard Hall of the church. Pumpkin pie and coffee will be provided by the Deaconesses and the Fellowship Committee.

First Church of Christ, Scientist, Invites All To Thanksgiving Services

A Thanksgiving Day service, including a period for expressions of gratitude by members of the congregation, will be held at First Church of Christ, Scientist, on Thursday, November 27.

The public is welcome to attend the hour-long service which starts at 11 a.m. in the church edifice, at 186 W. Highland Ave.

Four sections of short passages in the Lesson-Sermon develop the theme of the Golden Text from First Thessalonians: "Rejoice evermore. Pray without ceasing. In every thing give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you."

The first section, with selections from Psalms, sets forth the primacy and power of God, the creative Mind. One of the passages from Science and Health is: "If Mind was first chronologically, is first potentially, and must be first eternally, then give to Mind the glory, honor, dominion, and power everlastingly due its holy name."

The second section briefly relates the story of Ruth, whose faithfulness to God was abundantly rewarded.

Shakespeare Club Pre-Thanksgiving Luncheon Set

The board members of the Philanthropy Department of the Shakespeare Club are giving their annual pre-Thanksgiving luncheon for the children from the Roosevelt School for the Handicapped on November 26. They will arrive by bus with their principal, Mr. Wally Hutchins and his staff of teachers at the Shakespeare clubhouse for the event.

The Mitchell Marionettes, who were received so enthusiastically by the children last year, will again give generously of their time for this year's event.

Mrs. Roy J. Gilliam is chairman of the day and Mrs. A. Leonard Stavenson is in charge of the table decorations which will carry out the Thanksgiving theme. Assisting on the luncheon with Mrs. John R. Vidie, Philanthropy Department director, will be Mrs. Carl E. Hilbers, Mrs. John D. Phillips, Mrs. Don Wharton, Mrs. Idelle E. Sundquist, Mrs. Arthur E. Eggert, Mrs. John Ruskin Lane, Mrs. Donald Yokaitis, Mrs. William F. Hibbard, Mrs. Robert L. Law and Mrs. Walton Talley.

Lesson-Sermon For November 23

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Christian Science churches Sunday is "Soul and Body."

Passages to be read from the Bible include this verse from Psalms: "Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and why art thou disquieted within me? hope thou in God: for I shall yet praise him: who is the health of my countenance, and my God."

A related passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states: "Truth will at length compel us to exchange the pleasures and pains of sense for the joys of Soul."

$30-Thousand In Christmas Checks Go Out This Week

It may be only mid-November, but many thrifty Californians, 129 Sierra Madre residents included, have already presented themselves with an early Yuletide present — nearly $91 million in Bank of America Christmas Club checks.

In making the announcement today, George W. Mills, manager of the Sierra Madre office said that local Yule stockings will bulge with a $29,687 gift.

He noted that the money is being distributed in plenty of time for the holiday shopping season.

The $90.6 million in the thrift program's 46th year of operation surpasses the record high of 1968 by $4.2 million. This year's Christmas Club checks will average $218.12, up from last year's $210.55.

All told, 216,000 Southern Californians tucked away $46.3 million, while Northern Californians accumulated $44.3 million in nearly 200,000 accounts.

Most of this money will wind up under the Christmas tree on December 25, although some of the funds will be used for winter vacations or paying such year-end expenses as taxes and insurance premiums.

Sermon Subject 'Our Heritage'

The Rev. Richard J. Anderson of Sierra Madre Congregational Church, 170 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., sermon Sunday 11:00 a.m. "Our Congregational Heritage."

The keynote of historic Congregationalism is freedom from all denominational or ecclesiastical control that the individual believer and the congregation might be bound by the Lordship of Jesus Christ. Christ has the central control both in the life of the individual Christian and in the life of the local congregation. Christ presents in the life of the believer, Christ, the living Saviour is Lord and we must follow him.

As Ives Sees It
ROSE BOWL REPORT... THE NEW SEATS in the Rose Bowl are shiny and bright. The aluminum rather than wood should provide much more comfort EXCEPT on a cold day when the metal gets a shade cool on the fanny. The field is in gorgeous, spotless, plush green condition. It should remain the same unless the rains come before or during the CIF playoffs and the Pasadena Bowl.

PASADENA HIGH deserves a spot in the CIF playoffs. The Bulldogs are a fine team, second only to mighty Blair in this area. They bounced back from a 7-6 halftime deficit against Muir to run the Mustangs right out of the Bowl. Tom Hamilton believes in ball control but in Scott Sanders he has a quarterback that can pass well when needed.

HAMILTON has another promising quarterback in his Bulldog kennel. That would be his son, Tom Jr., who rifled a nifty 31-yard touchdown pass to Joe Lockhart in the 40-7 thumping of Muir. Jeff Throop, Gary Janegian, Albert Youngblood, Lockhart and Curtis Tomlin were especially impressive for the winners. Muir's Ricky Pendleton made a great grab of the TD pass as the first half ended. Muir proved during the season that they can beat an average team but just didn't have stuff to combat the Blairs and Pasadena.

SUDDEN THOUGHT... How is this for a Super Bowl spectacular? The Rams against Ohio State. The Buckeyes made a believer out of me with their trouncing of a good Purdue club. Thank goodness neither USC nor UCLA must face the Bucks on January 1... It's still a shame that second and even third-place teams in the PAC-8 are not allowed to compete in other bowl games. The Bruin-Trojan loser and Stanford would make dandy opponents for teams like Missouri, Tennessee, LSU, Texas, Arkansas and Penn State which figure to get bowl bids.

ODDS AND ENDS... They say the Lakers are searching for a good-shooting cornerman... The Stars — Please turn to Page 12

Las Jardineras Luncheon Meet

Members of Las Jardineras Garden Club of Lower Hastings Ranch met in the home of Mrs. Charles McCurdy for their regular monthly luncheon meeting. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Barton Steed and Mrs. Pete Woodworth.

Mrs. A. G. Devirian, program chairman, introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Pauling Dalby, whose topic was "Will those plants get watered on time?" or what can we tell about you from your handwriting? Mrs. Dalby is a member of the International Graphic-analysis Society and her fascinating lecture was illustrated with graphs and charts on personality traits that can be told from one's handwriting. Mrs. Dalby received her certificate in Chicago qualifying her to teach classes, she will start a new class in the spring for several of the members and their friends.

Because of the Thanksgiving holiday the November meeting will be held December 2.

phased the importance of using ZIP Codes and adding a return address to all Christmas mail. It only takes a couple extra seconds, but pays big dividends. ZIP codes enable postal employees to sort and handle the mail faster. A return address insures that mail that can't be delivered because of an illegible or incomplete mailing address will be returned to the sender.

"A return address might not seem very important," Postmaster Rossi noted, "but last year over 32 billion pieces of mail went to postal dead letter branches because the mailing address couldn't be read and there was no return address on the envelope. If you estimate your worth of each of these pieces at twenty-five cents, including postage, postal customers lost over $7.5 million last year to dead letter offices. And none of this would have happened if the envelopes had contained a return address."

The Food You Eat

games that were played in which food played an important part.

A cranberry contest was held in which each player was given a large needle and a long coarse thread. The players stood around a table and the object was to see who could thread the most cranberries in three minutes. The one winning won the privilege of hanging his ruby necklace around the neck of his chosen one with the accompaniment of a hearty kiss.

A Corn game was played in which five ears of dried corn were hidden about the house. This was in tribute to the five grains of corn, which legend has it were the daily ration of the Pilgrims during their second grim winter. The finders of these ears of corn were the "finalists." These five then vied to see who could strip the ear of corn in the shortest time.

A Pumpkin Race was another Thanksgiving sport. The contestants lined up, each with a small pumpkin and a wooden spoon. A prize was awarded to the one who could roll his pumpkin across the finish line first.

A favorite Thanksgiving custom of the children was the practice of dressing in fantastic costumes and masks, parading through the streets on Thanksgiving morning begging from passers-by. This mummery started as a re-enactment of the coming of the Indians to the Pilgrim feast.

Zita Szelezky To Perform At Shakespeare Club

The Shakespeare Club program chairman, Mrs. Robert M. Spanjian, presents Zita Szelezky, European actress, soprano, in the auditorium Tuesday, November 25, 1 p.m. This charming entertainer holds the distinction of being the highest paid actress of Hungary in motion pictures as well as in the theatre.

As the most outstanding pupil of the Hungarian Royal Academy of Theatre Arts in Budapest her talents gained early attention from the directors and producers of both stage and screen and during the first year she was offered the starring role of her first film "Her Highness." Upon graduation she accepted the high honor of membership in the Royal Hungarian National Theatre as it was considered the greatest classical theatre of Hungary.

From the onset of her career she was the leading lady in the renowned antique and modern classics. She was acclaimed not only as a fine dramatic actress but also as the darling of musical comedies. Her movie career, interwoven with her stage achievements skyrocketed her to stardom as the most beloved actress of Hungary.

The public is invited to attend and enjoy the first performer in the "Potpourri of Stars" in "Songs of Hungary." Admission $2 per person. Tickets may be obtained at the Shakespeare Club office. Regular membership cards will be honored, however, special guest cards are required.

Mrs. Walter Benedict, president, will preside at the noon luncheon in Stratford House, to be attended by members and their guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Appleby of 184 South Lima St. were recent guests at Rose-down Plantation and Gardens in St. Francisville, Louisiana. Rose-down is a restored plantation empire in the Feliciana, the region made famous by the artist-naturalist John James Audubon who painted more than 30 of his famous bird-life studies here more than a century ago.

Opening Season With 23 Teams

Soccer Time Opens In Sierra Madre For Youth

Youth soccer is in full swing throughout Southern and Northern California, as 211 teams of the American Youth Soccer Organization compete for regional championship honors in three age divisions — 7 to 10, 10 to 13 and 13 to 16.

"All regions showed considerable growth over last season, when some 1,800 players were registered," said AYSO secretary Bill Wolstencroft.

"Current player registration has already exceeded 3,000 and additionally, AYSO membership cards have been issued to nearly 500 coaches and officials," Wolstencroft concluded.

The most dramatic growth occurred in the Claremont area, which jumped from last season's 12 to 28 teams, while the South Bay continues to lead as AYSO's largest region, with 90 teams competing on 14 fields.

And here is the breakdown: San Mateo County — 18 teams, Sierra Madre — 23, Claremont — 28, Orange County — 8, South Bay — 90, West Los Angeles — 20, San Fernando Valley — 20 and Conejo Valley — 4 teams.

Following regular league play, the top regional teams will compete for the State title in three age divisions.

Meanwhile, the board of directors are working on plans to send AYSO representative teams on tour of the Soviet Union and West Africa at the conclusion of the season in April of 1970.

Edward Burgess, Deputy Director Soviet and Eastern European Exchanges Staff (Department of State, Washington, D.C.) has offered to assist in our efforts to follow an invitation our organization received earlier this year from Dynamo Kiev," said AYSO president Hans F. W. Stierle.

"And in October of this year, Dr. G. O. Sofuluwe, Chairman of the Lagos State Sports Council, invited an AYSO delegation to visit his native Nigeria for a series of games.

"We will spare no efforts in giving our youngsters an opportunity to visit foreign lands and compete in soccer internationally," Stierle concluded.

Public Invited To Meeting

'Sensitivity Training' To Be Motorede Subject

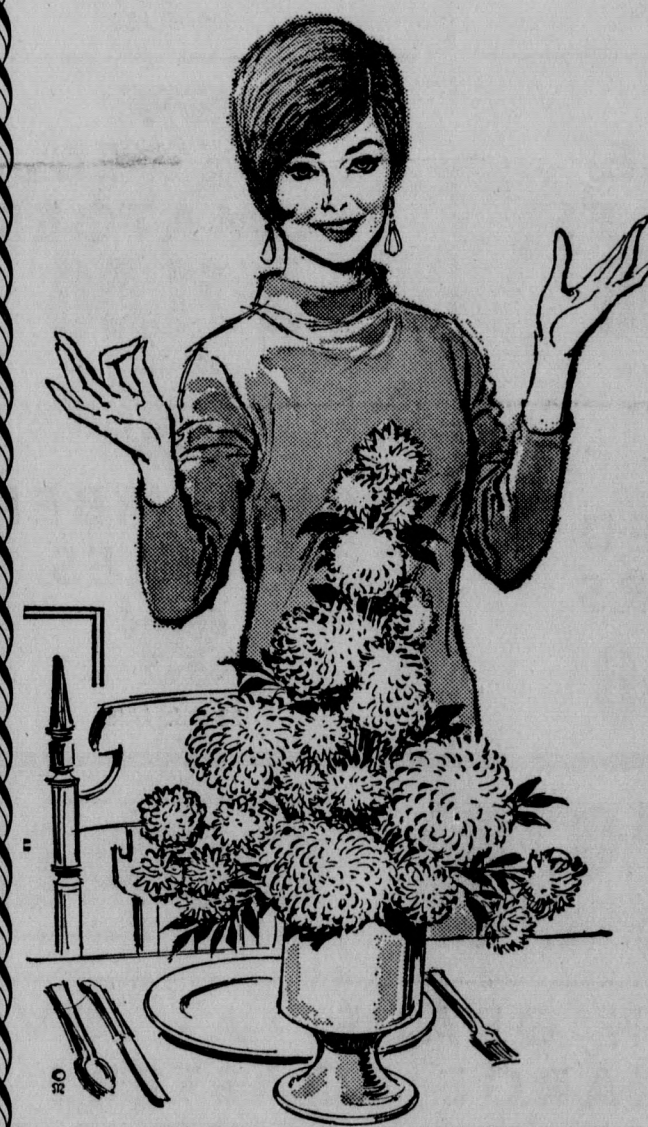

"The patent quackery and inherent dangers of the current fad called 'sensitivity training', which is in operation in many schools throughout the country," will be explored at a public meeting to be held at 8 p.m. Thursday, November 20, at the Arcadia Masonic Temple, 50 W. Duarte Road, according to Mr. Dee Zahner, chairman of the sponsoring group, Foothill Committee of MOTOREDE (Movement To Restore Decency).

The program will include a new documentary film-strip and a discussion by its producer, Mr. Ken Granger of Granger Graphics. His talk will cover such related topics as: various names used for sensitivity training; its philosophies and techniques, and how to tell if your child is being subjected to this system.

Crib Crop

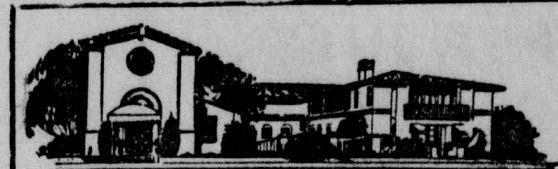

Master David Andrew Grecu is very excited these days about his new baby sister, Lori Anne, who arrived at St. Luke Hospital on November 8. Incidentally, mom and dad, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Grecu, of 985 Pepperhill Rd., Pasadena, are thrilled too. Lori weighed 6 lbs. 5 oz. and was 19½ inches long. Sharing all this excitement are maternal grandmother, Mrs. Jean Hardy of Hollywood, Florida, and paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Grecu Sr., of Kokomo, Indiana.
